

SEMINARIO

“Political Psychology: A Perspective from Gaza”

Prof. Osama Hamdouna
Al-Azhar University, Gaza City

The seminar explores the effects of war on the population of Gaza, with particular attention to the psychosocial dimensions of the conflict. It examines the manifestations of trauma, coping and social support mechanisms, and the vulnerability factors that emerge within conditions of ongoing political violence. The second part focuses on future directions for recovery and psychosocial support, as well as on potential political and educational reforms aimed at rebuilding social cohesion and institutional trust.
